In compiling this bibliography, I am grateful to have had the help of Jill Groves, Petra Heldt and Jeffrey Magnuson, as well as of David Flusser himself. Of assistance was also the material collected by Lena Skoog and others, over more than a decade, in the framework of the bibliographical catalogue project of the Ecumenical Theological Research Fraternity in Israel.

Although close to three hundred items will be found in the bibliography, there have doubtless been yet more contributions of David Flusser. Anyone who comes across items not recorded here is welcome to send the details to the office of the Ecumenical Fraternity (P.O.Box 249, 91002 Jerusalem, Israel). Also, while I have checked very many items, correcting errors in previous bibliographies, it was not possible to do so in every case. Should enough errors and omissions be sent in by readers, a supplement to the bibliography may be published in a future Immanuel.

Those who are unfamiliar with Israel may wonder how Flusser also came to be published by the Ministry of Defense. The explanation is that Israel Army Radio has for years broadcast lecture series by distinguished academics in its “University of the Air.” The talks of Flusser, among others, in the framework of these public service broadcasts were subsequently deemed worthy of publication in book form.

Regarding the 1979 collection of articles in Hebrew (JSECH), I have given the English title printed on the back of the Hebrew title page. An exact translation of the Hebrew title would be “Judaism and the Sources of Christianity.”
